

Thomas Cook India Buys Brainhunter Systems

NEW DELHI Travel firm Thomas Cook (India) has acquired Canada-based Brainhunter Systems for an undisclosed sum. The company's subsidiary, IKYA Human Capital Solutions has completed the acquisition of Brainhunter Systems, Thomas Cook (India) said in a filing to BSE. "The transaction was consummated on October 23 and 7,000,100 shares of common stock, being 100 % of the issued, subscribed and paid up share capital of Brainhunter Systems has been transferred in favour of IKYA Human Capital Solutions," it added. Based in Toronto (Canada), Brainhunter Systems is a leading IT and Engineering professional firm, employing about 700 professionals.